KANSAS AND MISSOURI TEAMS TO ARRIVE THIS EVENING.

Governors of Both States Invited-Kansas Generally Picked to Win -"Shorty" Hamill Expects a Hard Game.

The Kansas and Missouri football teams which will to-morrow participate in their eighth annual Thanksgiving day contest at Exposition park will arrive in the city to The Tigers will come in this evening and the Jayhawks have changed their plans and will come to Kansas City from Lawrence on one of the afternoon trains.

The Kansans as usual will be quartered at the Coates and the Missourians at the Midland. The hotels will be decorated in the colors of these universities this morning, the old tiger which has been exhibited in the corridor of the Midland on every past occasion of this character being brought out from his lair again.

The advance guard of the students is expected to arrive early this afternoon and it will be strongy reinforced by evening. All day to-morrow and to-morrow night the students with their bright colors and ear-splitting yells will own the town. In the crowd which will attend the game will probably be many distinguished persons. invitations have been extended to Governors Stephens and Leedy to attend. Gov-ernor-elect Stanley, of Kansas, and Cyrus Leland, the Kansas Republican leader, have also been invited. As yet there has been little or no betting in Kansas City, but the students are likely to bring a little money which they will be willing to risk on their favorites. Missouri probably will ask odds on Kansas and she will doubtless get them.

Both teams are in splendid physical condition. Each has had its last practice of the season and is ready for the big game. The following special dispatch was received by The Journal last night from its Lawrence correspondent:

One of Coach A. A. Stagg's first remarks to-day when he arrived at the University of Chicago shortly after 8 o'clock was: "This is the year the maroon should have played Yale. We could have beaten her, Harvard, with her straight football, would never have made the gains against our eleven that she did against Yale." Those who marveled that the former Yale player and shrewd coach should rate Yale so lightly were of the opinion that Mr. Stagg's interests were now Chicago interests and that his interests in Yale had been put in the background.—Chicago Evening Post.

The So-Called Anti-Ticket Scalper Law Is Declared Unconstitutional

COUNCILMAN JEWELL SEEKS TO Indicates impoverished PROHIBIT THEIR SALE.

> He Is Preparing an Ordinance Placing a License of Probably $500 Upon Dealers Who Handle "Coffin Nails."

Councilman Jesse L. Jewell, of the Third ward, is "agin" cigarettes. He thinks-and there are those who think with him-that it would be more sense in many people's heads if cigarettes were placed under the ban of the law.

What is needed is a law that will prohibit the sale of cigarettes to anyone, and this can only be accomplished by the passage Creates an appetite, of an ordinance fixing the license for dealers in cigarettes at a figure that will drive cigarettes out of the Kansas City market. Other states have adopted this plan with success, and even if not given the power to so legislate, Kansas City, under its cial charter, possesses that power. Principais of schools, school teachers and others who come in contact with children have Only Hood's. entered protests against the sale of cigar-ettes to their charges, and in answer to this protest Mr. Jewell is preparing an or-dinance that is expected to closely restrict, is to build a line from Kansas City to Sauk Center, a distance of 520 miles, to connect the Northern Pacific and Great Northern rallways with the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf, or Pert Arthur route. if it does not totally prohibit, the sale of

I have not deter-mined yet at what figure to place the li-cense, but it will not be less than $500, and may be a great deal more. I can tell bet-ter after I have held a consultation with City Counselor Middlebrook, whom I shall ask to assist me in drawing up the ordi-nance. Kansas City tobacconists express the opinion that a $500 license would drive the cigarettes out of the market, as the margin of profit is so small that a high license would be prohibitive. The first-class dealers do not care to handle them, and do so only as a matter of accommodation to their patrons.

The state of Missouri has placed the power in the hands of every city, town and village in the state to so legislate as to prohibit the sale of cigarettes and a few have taken advantage of that power, although only to a limited extent. Kansas City has an ordinance making it a crime punishable by a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $500, to sell, give to or procure cigarettes for minors, but the law is a dead letter. It never has been enforced nor attempted to be enforced and children of any age may procure cigarettes in any store in the city in which they are kept—all that is requisite is the price.

I don't know just what the condition of the schools is at present in regard to this matter. I haven't investigated it for some time. Each teacher has his own method of dealing with the matter. We can't control cigarette smoking except upon the school strounds. What we do toward breaking up the habit outside has to be done through influence. The pupils are taught the effects of tobacco upon the system in their physiology lessons. CITY NEWS IN PARAGRAPHS.

The Comas Club held its usual Tues-day evening dance at the Lyceum hall. The Alta Social Club entertained with dancing at the Academy of Music last stitute. On the contrary it has of necessity increased it, for never has the demand for clothes, meals and beds been greater than in the last few days. The cold weather has caught many a poor fellow with no provision for winter and no work.

The big stove that heats the meeting room threw out a warm welcome to many a passer-by, and the place was crowded. During a prayer by a new convert, in the front part of the hall, the big door opened and in came a little fellow with torn stockings and ragged coat. He edged his way among the crowd until he reached the stove. After toasting himself, front and back, he confidingly whispered. "I wish we'uns had a stove like the." The Elks' social stag will be held in room 300, New York Life building, this At Grace church the morning service and prayer will be held at 19:30 o'clock, while holy communion will be given at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. We do not propose to sit idly by while disaster and ruin stare us in the face. It's our bounden duty (and we're not known to shirk our duty when duty calls) to avert the misfortune of our life. Our creditors must be satisfied and to do so we must raise $100,000 by January 1st. It may come expensive to us to save ourselves from doom, but we're equal to the emergency. Two hundred thousand dollars in goods lie on our shelves and must be converted into cash, and $100,000 in cash is what we want, what we must and shall have when the clock strikes out the year 1898.
